OFF RABBIT
Spay & Neuter
DURING THE MONTH OF MAY

We can neuter a male at 12 weeks old and spay a female at 16 weeks old.

Benefits of Spaying or Neutering Rabbits

- Both female and male bunnies can show aggressiveness towards other bunnies of either sex and also towards humans. Spaying and neutering may reduce this behavior
- Spaying a female bunny will greatly reduce her chance of uterine cancer and mammary tumors. It also eliminates the possibility of pyometra.
- Male bunnies may kick and spray urine, marking walls and furniture. Neutering a male bunny may decrease or eliminate this undesirable behavior.
- Bunnies can be housed together without worries of accidental litters once they have been spayed or neutered. Bunnies enjoy the company of other bunnies and can become a bonded pair.
