IHA's Love For Pets program provides resources for pet parents living in targeted neighborhoods, helping keep pets healthy, happy, and in their homes.

This program serves some of our most under resourced local neighborhoods.

As a result of our most recent Love For Pets Festival, 82 pets received services. 15 dogs and 19 cats were signed up for transportation to our clinic, and received spay or neuter surgery and vaccinations.

This outreach would be impossible if not for your amazing support.
Thank You!

It Takes A Village

Animal Rescue & Resources

It Takes A Village Animal Rescue & Resources, located in Muscatine, just launched in March of this year. In just 5 months, we have adopted out almost 100 dogs into loving forever homes. We are an entirely foster-based rescue. With a commitment to ensure every animal we adopt out is spayed/neutered, we rely heavily on partners like Iowa Humane Alliance, that offer these services at an affordable cost. As we have also been working to establish our TNR program, it has become quite evident that our partnership with IHA is crucial to our program's success. Without it, we would not be able to address the cat overpopulation in our community, especially in under-served areas within and surrounding Muscatine County.

Service, emotional support and therapy animals...what's the difference?

A service animal has been individually trained to perform tasks on cue that assist a person with a disability. The tasks performed by the dog must be directly related to the person's disability.

An emotional support animal provides comfort to their person just by their presence. Providing comfort is not a trained behavior and, therefore, is not considered an assistance (service) animal under the ADA.

Therapy animals are usually a person's own pet that the person has had qualified (through a therapy pet organization) to make visits to hospitals, schools, nursing homes, etc.
